

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Elkhart, IN – ACTIA Corporation is pleased to announce that Mr. Adam Ramouni has been appointed Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Ramouni has also been elected to ACTIA’s Board of Directors.

Mr. Ramouni assumed day-to-day operations of the ACTIA US operations as the Managing Director July 1st 2006 and has been instrumental in the remarkable results that followed. As the CEO, Mr. Ramouni will expand his efforts to include strategic planning and future growth.

Mr. Ramouni’s 20+ years of vehicle electronics experience gives him a unique prospective on current and emerging technologies and how it can successfully be applied in today’s markets. Mr. Ramouni’s goal is to position ACTIA as a strategic partner to all of its current and future OEM customers. “We don’t want to be just another component supplier. We want to work side by side with our customers to help them become more competitive in this global economy,” says Mr. Ramouni.

The ACTIA Group consists of 15 companies each focusing on a piece of the vehicle technology puzzle. “Using these ACTIA core competencies, we can provide a turnkey solution for just about any vehicle application,” explains Mr. Ramouni. “We not only can provide all of the on-board solutions, including instrumentation, multiplexed power management, multiplexed switching and telematics, but we can also provide off-board solutions that include diagnostic service tools, end-of-line test solutions and much more.”

With more than 1700 employees and annual sales revenue of more than $230 million, the ACTIA Group is poised for tremendous growth in the US market.
